

Goodbye Marie "Mama" DiCarlo

Family and friends mourned the passing of Marie "Mama" DiCarlo who died Saturday of congestive heart failure.

Mrs. DiCarlo, 81, and her husband started Jimmy's Food Store, a neighborhood grocery store at the corner of Fitzhugh and Bryan. After a fire destroyed the store in October, the family reopened in the Quadrangle shopping center in Uptown.

On any given Monday, Mrs. DiCarlo could be found behind the back counter expertly rolling meatballs for the store's weekly supply.
